

“Look In”

By: Laura Fortini

I'll hold my breath 'till the sun sets
I hang onto every word you said, keeping the prayer stuck in my head I'll find out what I can't understand Look in the mirror I'll tell you what I see But with every calloused word there's nothing to believe

I put my walls up, but it's nothing you can see
So I'll wait and fall out
It's confining me

Just move on
The world keeps spinning,
and they won't care
if they see you win
And I can still see you this ain't the best view on the outside so I'll look in

Before your demons can make marks I'll make sure that I've defeated the dark When I once knew if I would come through...
But before the clock stops running and time goes out I'll be the last one standing Cause I can't put this down
I can't put this down

I put my walls up, but it's nothing you can see

and they won't care
if they see you win
And I can still see you
So I'll look in and move on
Their hearts won't turn
if they see you win
And I can still see you
this ain't the best view on the outside
So I'll look in

And I know it's all in my head
and there's not much to be said When you'll pick your battles and I'll watch them end
But I won't let go
Not now

I put my walls up, but it's nothing you can see
So I'll take them down

I'll look in
